Summary:

For this task, I checked all the extensions installed in my Firefox browser and found that there were no suspicious or unknown ones. All the extensions currently active include Norton, including Norton Home Page, Norton Password Manager, Norton Safe Search, and Norton Safe Web. These are trusted tools that help protect me from online threats like phishing, unsafe websites, and weak passwords. Since they are useful and secure, I didn't remove any extensions. This task helped me understand how to check extension permissions and the risks of keeping unnecessary or malicious add-ons.
